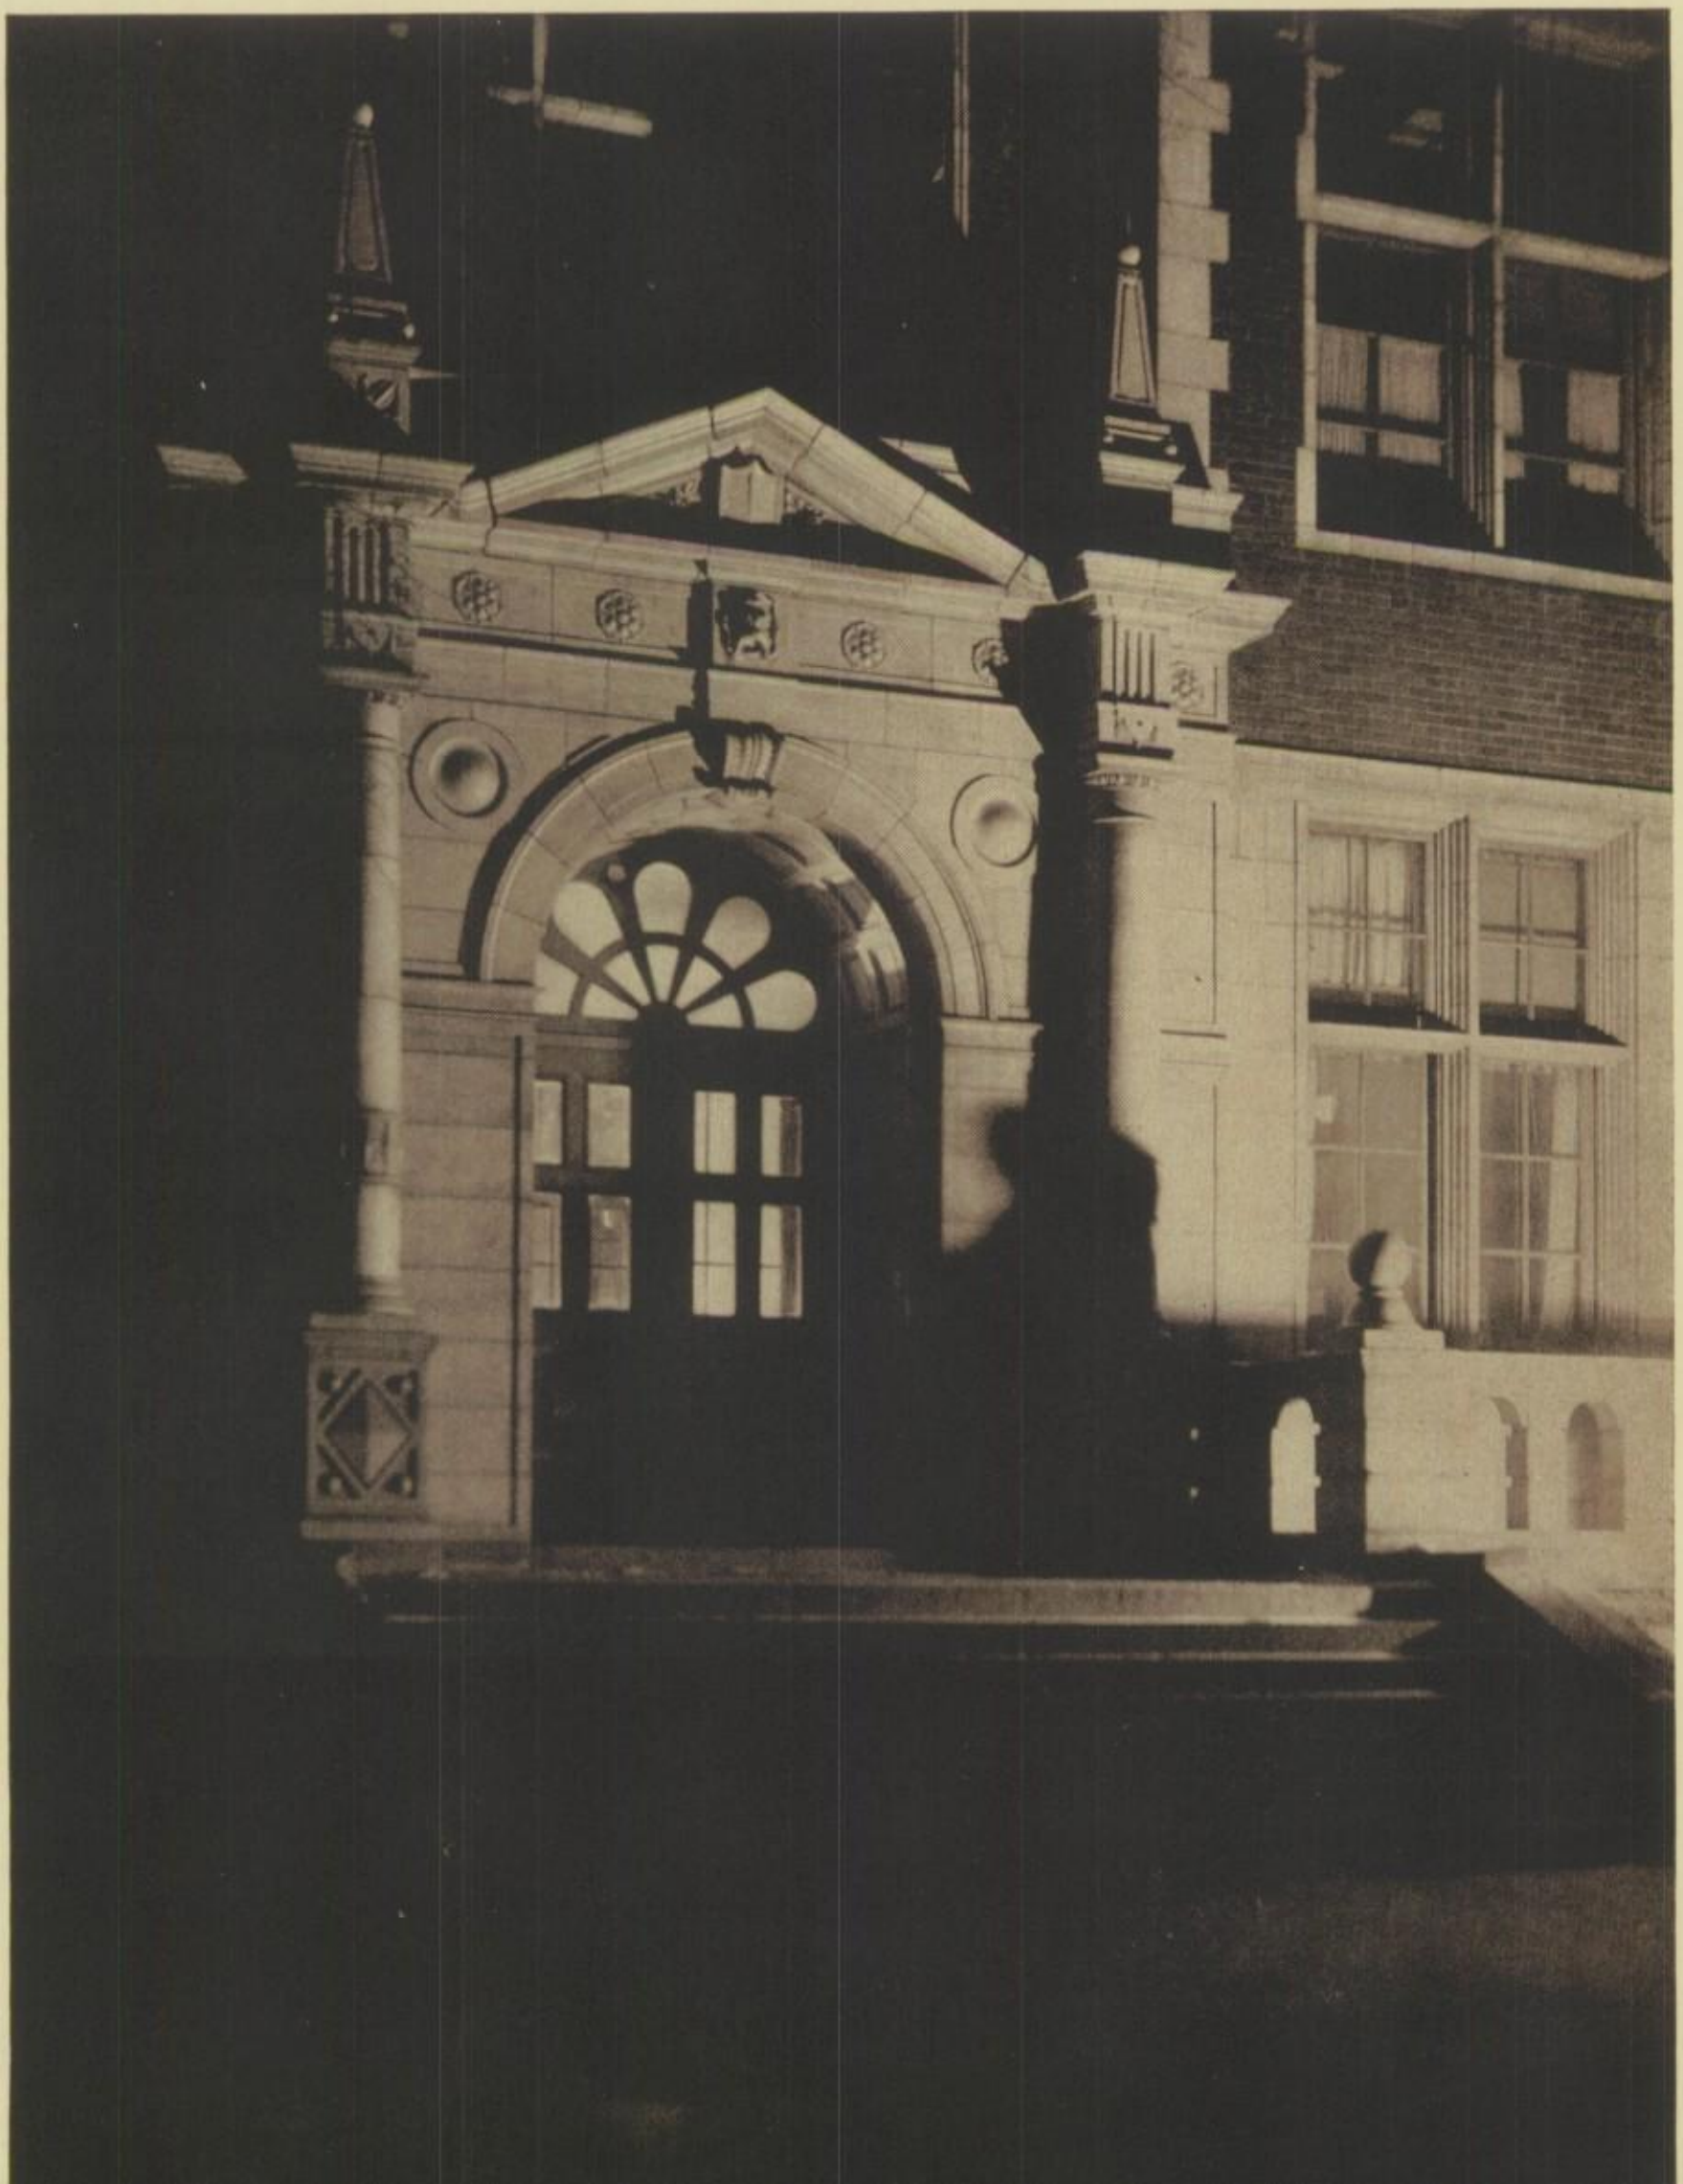
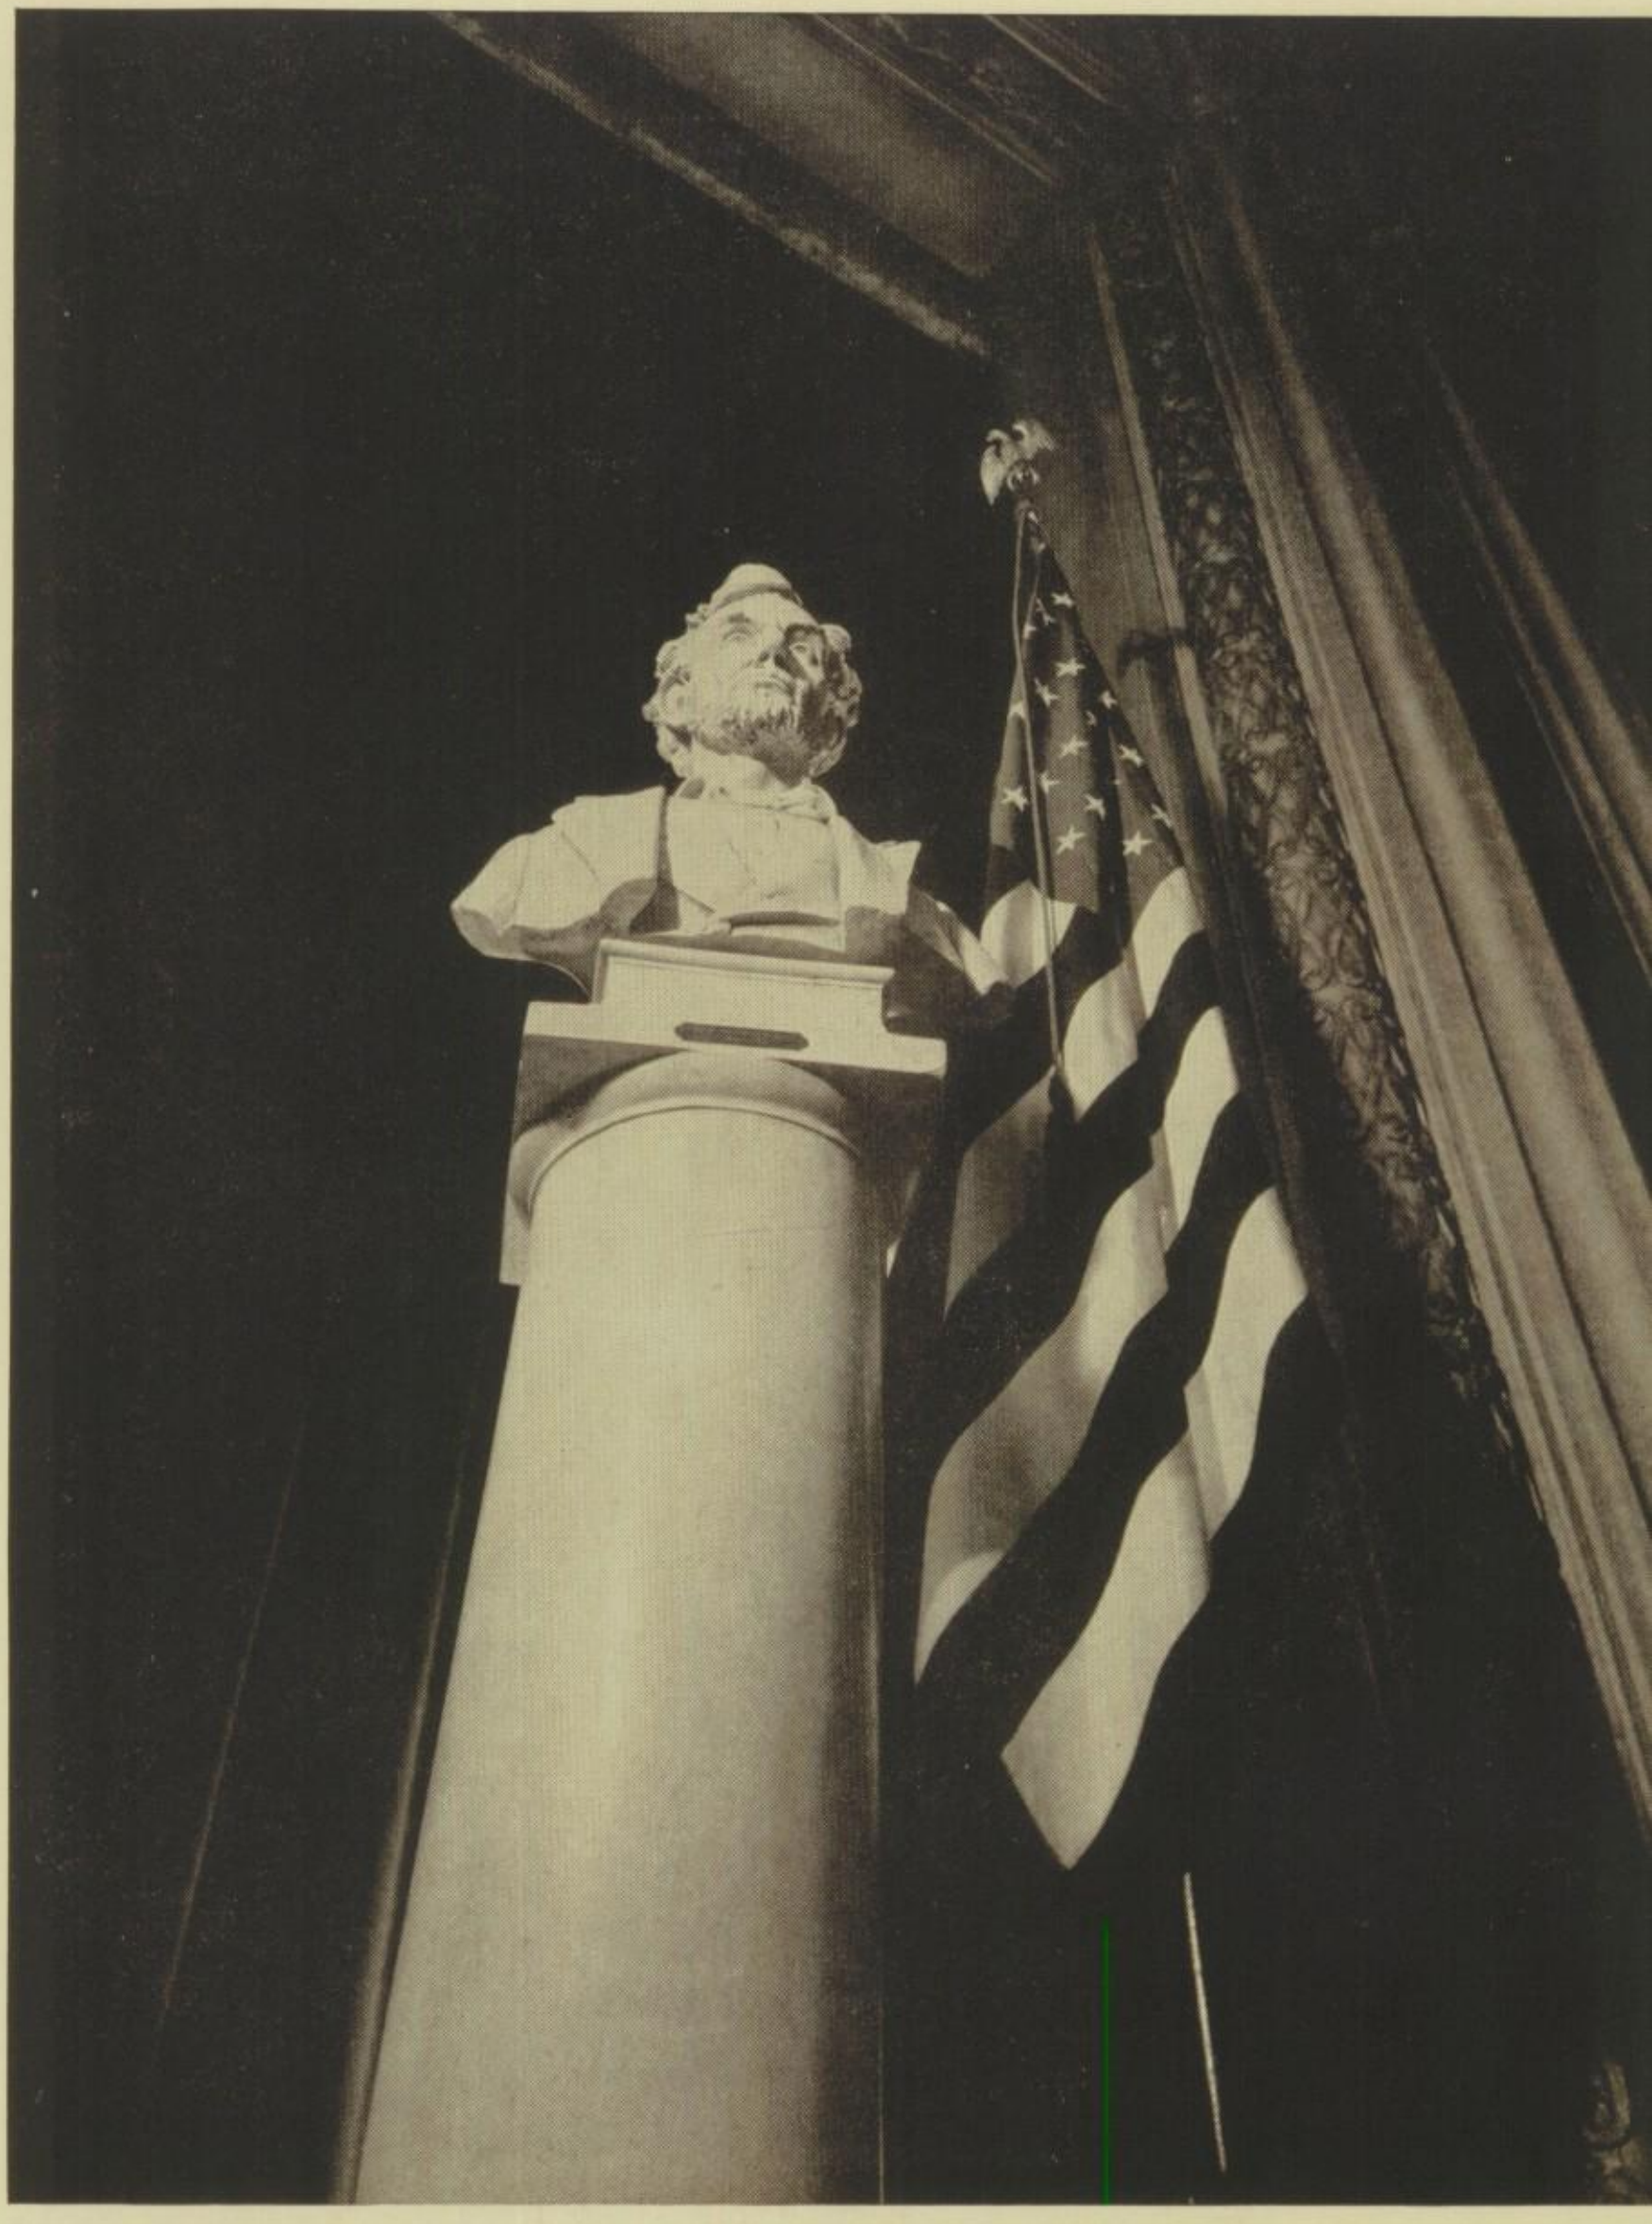
"And this is the last door. Astonishment, and amazement beat upon my heart."

"A Woman Killed With Kindness"
—Thoman Heywood.

"How sweet the moonlight sleeps upon this — — — —. Soft stillness and the night become the touches of sweet harmony."

"The Merchant of Venice"
—Wm. Shakespeare.





"There are some deeds so grand
That their mighty doers stand
    Ennobled, in a moment, more than kings,
And such deeds, O land sublime,
Need no sanctity from time,
Their own epoch they create,
Whence all meaner things take date;
    Then exalt thee, for such noble deeds were thine!"

—George Henry Boker.

And, when the stream
Which overflowed the soul was passed away,
A consciousness remained that it had left,
Deposited upon the silent shore
Of memory, images and precious thoughts,
That shall not die and cannot be destroyed.

"The Excursion"
—Wordsworth.

"And now, veiled all in misty white, it nears—
It stretches out its long white hand and points."

"The Sunken Bell"
—Gerhart Hauptmann.

"And a very pleasant way of unbending the mind after serious studies! Give me . . . the rigour of the game."

"The Night of Mr. H."
—Harold Brighouse.

We need love's tender lesson taught
As only weakness can;
God hath His small interpreters
The child must teach the man.

"Child-Song"
—Whittier.

"From them I stole a brand, and upward crept . . . Loud roar the flames—each rafter cracks and bends!"

"The Sunken Bell"
—Gerhart Hauptmann.

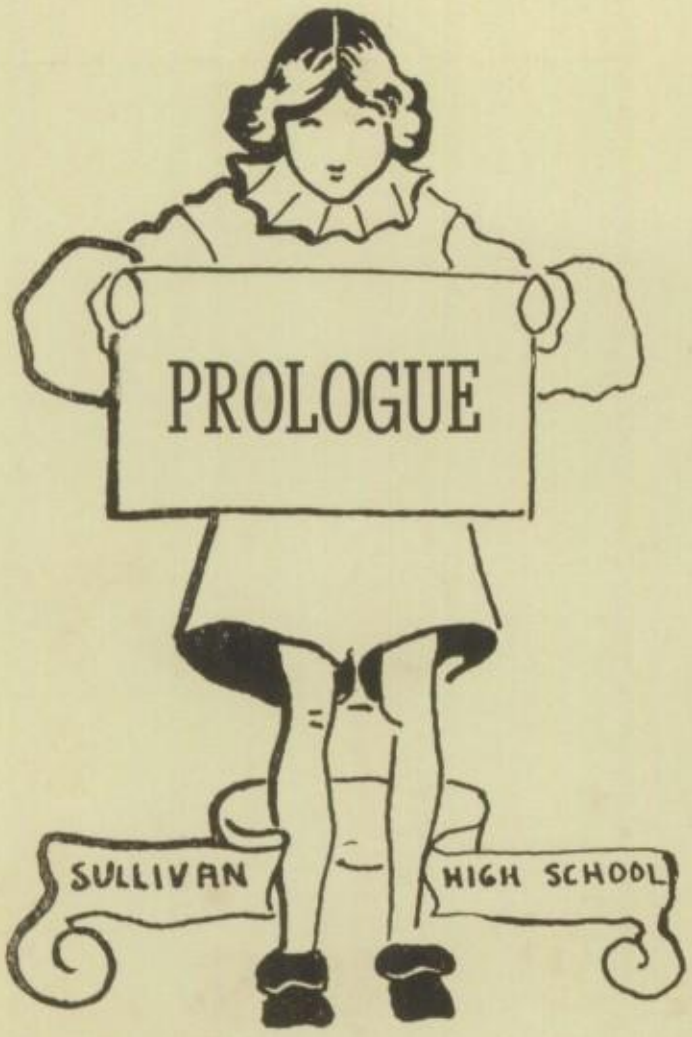
DEDICATION

We can not play our concluding roles without a word of thanks to Miss Mary M. Mullin. We feel it a privilege to dedicate this book to one whose guidance has meant so much to the progress of Sullivan and to the graduates of the class of nineteen hundred thirty-seven.

IN HONOR OF MR. HANSEN

"I'm at home there on the campus. It's a cloistered life, and perhaps that's why I like it. I enjoy the society of my faculty and of my students. Scholarship is my first love."

"We, the People"
—Elmer Rice.



DRAMA, chosen as the motif of the NAVILLUS for '37, conveys, we feel, deep significance in relation to the traditional atmosphere of our fondly cherished alma-mater, Roger C. Sullivan High School.

Pervading familiar corridors, classrooms,—indeed, in every brilliant phase of Sullivan's daily routine are the charming reflections of both the transcending artistic perfections of a romantic bye-gone age, and the vibrant affairs of cosmopolitan interest found upon every humanly adorned scene presented by this progressive generation.

Sullivan's architectural style, a living manifestation of Tudor Art which flourished during that richest period of dramatic intellectual and material expansion —the magnificent Elizabethan Age—is exquisitely decorative; in beauty, alone surpassed by the legions of sparkling faces thronging its memorable halls.

Curtain calls before the eyes and ears of Tomorrow's world are coveted by everyone in dazzling previews of coming features—experiences awaiting us in mature years. Yet, who has failed to perceive that even now, as we stand in the wings of this great stage, we are applauded for the depth, the adroit excellence of our individual characters? Therefore, let the stars among you shine out with lustrous splendor!

And now, invoking all Muses—we present for your pleasure the NAVILLUS for '37.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

A man is known by the way he speaks! Good command of the English language is, obviously, a great asset to the search for success. Definitely then, the importance of the English courses in high school can not be overestimated.

The Sullivan English department, headed by Miss Dore, may easily be called one of the most important faculty groups in the school—for through its teachings, students may readily build for themselves a background of excellent knowledge of our language and its literature—which will undoubtedly prove invaluable in later life.

THE LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The mastery of a foreign language is an accomplishment well worth the effort spent in study. The purpose of the Language Department is to help the student achieve this goal.

The teachers who form this department are well versed in the language they teach, and have had actual experience in speaking and writing that tongue. Mr. Carl Sundstrom is the chairman of this group of instructors.

Sullivan offers courses in four languages: French, Spanish, Latin, and German. In addition to the regular classes, special clubs have been organized to help the students perfect their knowledge of these languages. Opportunity has also been given for correspondence with people who live in foreign countries.

SCIENCE DEPT.

Apparatus, investigation, theory and research all play equal parts in the sciences offered in our school. Botany, zoology, physics, and chemistry are the laboratory sciences, and one year of general science is required.

Each semester, as better equipment is being acquired, the courses are becoming more interesting and offer a wider field for experimental work.

Our department of science is organized under the able leadership of Mr. Russell as chairman, and Mrs. Dorman as secretary. To stimulate a greater interest in their studies, the science teachers sponsor the zoology, botany, physics, and chemistry clubs.

To illustrate the subject, and to enlist the attention of the students, moving pictures have been initiated into, and have become an integral part of the curriculum.

SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

There is a famous saying—"History repeats itself." If this is true, then it is certainly advisable for one to study past history in order to better comprehend the significance of events happening today..

Our school realizes this and consequently we have one of the finest social science departments in the city. Miss Butler is chairman of this group, with Miss McCutcheon as secretary.

Besides ancient, medieval, modern, United States and industrial history, this department also consists of civics and economics classes. Numerous clubs and organizations are sponsored by the members of this group.

Commercial Department

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

With Miss Powers as chairman and Miss Herman as secretary, the commercial department of Sullivan is a capable and efficient group of well-trained teachers.

One of the aims of this department is to provide a complete course of vocational training. This course includes typewriting, stenography, bookkeeping, business training, commercial law and commercial geography.

This department is concerned primarily with the development of the pupil's capacity for commercial dealings, and the giving of information about the handling of business transactions of an individual or corporation, which will enable one, after graduation, to look after his own or some other person's affairs to a better advantage.

THE MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Mathematics constitutes an integral part of the high school curriculum. The Mathematics Department endeavors to teach the students the principles of orderly thinking and thought application by means of practical problems.

Algebra and plane geometry are the only subjects in this field that the students are required to complete. For those who are interested in the higher forms of mathematics, college algebra, solid geometry, and trigonometry are offered as electives.

This department also sponsors clubs, at the meetings of which the members discuss problems not included in the regular class work.

The chairman of the Mathematics Department is Miss Helen Hanson.

Arts Department

THE "ARTS" DEPARTMENT

Arts—both fine and practical, although not indispensable, fill an important cultural and practical gap in a person's character. The arts, as taught at Sullivan, provide a required year of music and art for the cultural aspect, and various domestic and mechanical sciences, which are optional, for the practical viewpoint. For the student, talented in either music or art, there are special art courses, and various musical organizations which provide an outlet for vocal or instrumental ability. A background of cultural and practical knowledge should belong to every one who has hopes of success—and who has not?

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

To train and exercise the mind and not, at the same time, develop the body would be inconsistent. We Sullivanites are fortunate indeed to own such a fine Physical Education department. The girls' swimming and gymnasium classes are conducted by Miss Williams and Miss Metzger. The boys' division of this department is instructed by Mr. Margolis and Mr. Nemkoff. An important phase of this department is the R. O. T. C., headed by Sergeant Gristhus. On observation, it will be noted that the R. O. T. C. has produced more than its quota of leaders in the school activities. The period of recreation which we enjoy three days a week is one most of us look forward to. These five faculty members, of whom Miss Williams is chairman, play an important part in our school lives and are admired and loved by us all.

AND THE FEB-GRADS . . .

Ah! Our gay congenial February Class—so unique in its presentation of talent and scholastic attainment—yet, so cooperative, and appreciative of the fondly remembered alma-mater. Small—140—but, somehow—unusual!

These friendly young men and women, who so pensively set aside text books and final examinations and donned the dignified mortar-boards and gowns on the so long-anticipated evening of graduation formalities, were bound together by a very exclusive, very rare bond of sportsmanlike companionship.

Let us hope that all of them will retain vivid visions of the crowning achievements of their almost seven years of unity. Indeed, this, their first graduation, is of double significance, because they were—due to change in the school system—denied this honor, first in grade-school, and, then, in junior high school.

Several outstanding participations in Sullivan's activities were: R.O.T.C., all clubs, athletics, "The Harmony Minstrels," Christmas carols, the senior play, "Rendezvous," the highly elite "prom," and at long last, thrilling valedictions!

Here—a toast! Your health and success! G'by now . . .

THE JUNE FINALE

"And what is so rare as a day in June?"—following four years of an exceedingly brilliant and comprehensive trial by erudition! A large class—302—but so uniformly pleasant and reliable!

If we tend to hold ourselves in too great self-esteem—why, forgive our impetuosity and all-encompassing pride—for we have toiled with boundless ambition, good-humor, and superb scholarship—from whence cometh our light spirits, our great hopes.

* * *

That year was Sullivan's tenth anniversary, 1926-1936. And, of course, you recall—we were the first class to graduate four years after Sullivan was changed from a junior to an outstanding senior high school.

Friendship?—but naturally! However, our forte indeed did repose in new heights of scholarship—regardless of the curricular or extracurricular vehicle chosen to convey to the best advantage the developing abilities of each individual. Our school organizations gained an even wider scope of activity and attained previously unexcelled records. Why?—because our classmates possessed amazing versatility—as well as surpassing talent!

As seniors—we joyously anticipated the conclusion of pre-graduation affairs, as: the selection of class officers and committees, "The Spring Frolics of '37", the Prom and Class Luncheon. Delightful expectations! And how patiently, thoughtfully did we await that night of music, eulogy, gift bequeathing—and diplomas.

Remember? . . .

SENATE

The political organization of any high school is the foundation for true student democracy. The Senate has taken this position in the Sullivan High School. By its leadership, it has enabled the school to obtain activities and organizations heretofore denied.

During the years 1936 and 1937, the Senate has financed dances, most of which have proved to be very successful. Among these, the "Black Cat" affair was most profitable, enabling the Senate to back another successful student venture. The group lead the youth action in obtaining the appropriation for the athletic field now in the process of construction at Farwell and the Lake. This field will enable Sullivan athletics to expand in both quality and quantity. Another function most successful during the past year was the inauguration of a new hall usher system in which senators were employed. So competent has this become that the smoothness of school routine depends largely upon this group's capability for maintaining order. Working hand in hand with the Senate is the Clean-up Committee which has successfully coped against the dirt problem in Sullivan.

The variety of activities, the tremendous number of accomplishments give ample proof that the Sullivan Senate has had an outstanding year, one whose precedent it will be well to follow.

HONOR SOCIETY

A gold pin! This shining metallic object, small in size, is the symbol of scholastic success in high school. It rests on the top of the intellectual ladder, accessible only to the few who compose the Alpha group of the Sullivan Honor Society.

The Honor Society is a means of recognizing students superior in scholarship and citizenship. The Gamma group has met the requirements for at least one semester. These students are awarded bronze pins. Four consecutive semesters answer the demands of the Beta group, whose members receive silver pins. The much-coveted gold pins are won by Alpha members by reason of six terms as superior students. The three students amassing the greatest number of points automatically become president, vice-president, and secretary of the Society.

A new goal for "Brain Trusters" is the National Honor Society chapter. Its membership, awarded only to fifteen per cent of the graduating seniors, is based upon scholarship, service, leadership, and character. The candidates must be in the upper third of their class, and are elected by a faculty council consisting of the principal and four or more teachers. Two weeks before the commencement the honors are conferred. The members of the Sullivan National Honor Society chapter then elect their own officers.

With the retirement of the former Miss Louise Lowry, Miss Nina Merry assumed the position of faculty sponsor.

LIBRARY

One of the most indispensable departments of the school is the library. To it, at all periods of the day, flock groups of book-minded students.

Mrs. Julia Grashoff, the head librarian, is assisted by an able staff of students who aid in the various departments of library work, such as cataloging, checking books in and out, mending books, and helping others use the reference facilities. This gives them valuable technical experience as well as a clear understanding of the operation and arrangement of a library. Upon successfully completing a semester of this work, the assistants receive a half credit.

The books are shelved in a manner that makes it easy for any student to find just what he wants. The reference books are kept in a separate portion of the library to facilitate research work, and are not allowed to circulate. The other books are classified by number and are arranged in order on the shelves. All of the books are identified in a card catalog. The recent magazines are kept in a rack, available for use at any time, while the older periodicals are filed away for future reference.

Students may spend one study period a day in the library, which they may devote to either research work or to pleasure reading. Everything possible has been done to provide for the necessary environment and equipment for thorough and useful study as well as for enjoyment.

INTERNATIONAL DRAWING EXCHANGE

The International Drawing Exchange was organized to exchange drawings and other educational material, and to instill a spirit of tolerance and good-will throughout the world by educational cooperation which may link all nations and lay the foundations for a universal era of peace. The chapter at Sullivan is the forty-fourth chapter organized in the world. Thus far, nineteen countries belong to the Exchange.

This semester, among other achievements, the group has sent drawings, the Sentinel, and reports on various activities, to a Danish mission school in China, and to Chile; have written letters to Germany, France, Hungary, Mexico, and Egypt; and sponsored the exhibit of drawings from nineteen countries, held in Sullivan. It is sponsored by Mrs. Coral Kube.

STAGE CRAFT

The Stage Craft group, newly organized this semester, should prove alluring to all those who are interested in the technical aspects of staging. Under Miss Rose Krupnick's direction, a group of permanent "flats" are being produced, for use in student productions. From now on, this group will attempt to make all scenery in forthcoming Sullivan shows, as they did for this semester's Frolics and the Senior Play.

At the beginning of the course, lectures were given, and a trip was made to the Chicago Theatre, where the entire back-stage was explored. Another feature was a trip to the Chicago Lighting Institute.

The Stage Craft class meets eighth period every day. A half credit is given for the course.

MARIONETTE CLUB

An intriguing hobby, the art of making and staging marionette shows, is again coming into the limelight. Here, in Sullivan, the idea of a club devoted to staging marionette plays was fostered by Miss Krupnick for some time until last fall such a club came into being. John Sienna was made president, Jacqueline Kadet secretary, and Alan Coulder was elected treasurer.

The group immediately set to work. Two of their members, Evelyn Lepsey and Jean Botek, wrote a play. The others began constructing the stage, sets, and even made the tiny characters by hand. Their product, "Inkelby, the Ink-spot", was successfully staged in the late spring and the new season was planned.

The making of the typical marionette consists of carefully carving out the features of the subject from balsa wood. The body is made of short bits of wood and wires. This, when covered with the clothing can give a very close likeness to human beings. In fact the members of the club think of their characters as living.

In the spring semester Bertrand Beier was president and Jacqueline Kadet, secretary-treasurer.

PHYSICS CLUB

Delving into the perplexities of the physical world, Sullivan's physicists may often be seen wrangling over the possibilities of a pet theory. The Physics Club has been the battleground for many an argument and the Waterloo of many a Napoleonic Einstein. Every other Tuesday the club gathers in room 328 to listen to talks and see demonstrations and experiments given by the members. After the usual business of the meeting is over, a general discussion ensues in which Mr. Gonzales, the club sponsor, joins the members in discussing the day's talk. Such subjects as radio, polarized light, liquid air, and spectroscopy have been discussed. The club has conducted tours to such places as the University of Chicago Physics Museum and the Museum of Science and Industry. Membership in the Physics Club is limited to those who actively participate in the club functions. The group sponsored a party last December at which our Einsteins and Eddingtons relaxed from the taxing worry of why their theories did not work. However, the club, organized in 1935, has continued under the guidance of Mr. Gonzales to be one of the first science clubs in the school. The usual meetings, at which about twenty-five of the members are present, are quite formal and adhere to parliamentary procedure.

The officers are Fenton Schaffner, president; David Pendleton, vice-president; Oscar Buchalter, secretary; and William Borr, publicity director.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club, organized last semester, is the result of a union of the Thimble Club, sponsored by Miss Kober, and the Social Service Club, formerly under Miss Bermingham's leadership. The club is interested in all types of home economics, not limiting itself to any one.

After seeing an account of the club's activities, one will readily agree that it is "on the go" all the time. During this past year, it made trips to the Historical Society, where special interest was manifested in the period rooms; to the Art Institute during the Needlework Guild exhibitions; and to Marshall Field's where a guide conducted them through the kitchen, period furniture, and dress designing departments. At a meeting in January, the girls gave a tea for their mothers, at which they showed moving pictures on fabrics.

During this last semester, the girls have concentrated most of their efforts on making calico animals and dolls, and scrapbooks for children in the County Hospital.

The club, which meets on Thursdays, is open to all girls, but only those who have taken Household Arts, may become officers.

Sullivan's future bankers, brokers, and business men are securing their basic training in the Economics Club. Founded over a year ago by Mr. John F. Erzinger, economics instructor, this club has endeavored to provide the practical experience of economics along with the theoretical knowledge of the classroom. Many trips have been sponsored by the members of this organization. Within the past year the members have made a thorough tour of The Chicago Board of Trade, where their picturesque study of the commission trade was brought to life; The Chicago Stock Exchange, where the constant turmoil comprising the operations of this awe-inspiring institution was vividly portrayed to them. The most recent of these guided tours was to Marshall Field's. Here the students were guided throughout the building, and the business functions of this corporation were completely described. The pupils were amazed to discover that in the sub-basement of the store, operating between all the large stores and buildings in Chicago's loop, was a vast system of subway trains. They were even more thrilled when they were allowed to see this underground railroad.

Besides sponsoring tours to the various places of interest, the club conducts panel discussions on the American ways of solving our contemporary economic problems.

CIVIC FORUM

Pro and con flows the argument. One upholding, the next tearing down. All minds ready to absorb new ideas and all students eager to voice their opinions in problems of the present day.

The Civic Forum was organized as an outlet for thought and discussion on topics of world-wide interest and has succeeded in attracting many of the brain-trust of the school. The students' eagerness in participating in the discussions clearly reveals the merits of the group.

The Forum has discussed Neutrality, War, the Supreme Court, and numerous other topics upon which there may be a conflict of opinion. It has helped not only in broadening the scope of the students in civic affairs but also in developing the technique of public address.

Its influence has been felt in both the classroom and at home, and, under the sponsorship of Miss Moloney, it has attained greater heights than previous Forums have reached. The club is open to all, in spite of the fact that some students prefer listening to talking, and the further success of this civic organization has already been predicted.

The fall officers were: Charles Presson, president; Jerome Brown, vice-president; Louise Tumpson, secretary; and Pearl Jacobson, treasurer. The spring officers were: Fenton Shaffner, president; William Borr, vice-president; Charlotte Krevitsky, secretary; Louise Tumpson, treasurer, and Robert Gluckman, sergeant-at-arms.

CHESS CLUB

Chess teaches foresight and logical thinking. The checkered surface of the board becomes a huge battlefield on which the carved wooden figures become living flesh and blood. Man after man is eliminated as the feud wages on. Then the less skillful player makes a mistake, and is bested by the superior player.

After fighting it out for the better part of the fall semester with the other members of the club, a team of five outstanding players was made up. This team consists of: Oscar Buchalter, Erwin Cohen, William Harrison, Julian Levey, and Mortimer Raymon. In their first game they beat Lake View High School team.

FRANKLIN CLUB

This club has the just right to claim its title of the oldest club in Sulivan. It was organized at the time the school was made into a senior high school. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Rogers, it became one of the leading organizations in the school. The primary purpose of the club is to encourage those students who intend to become printers and those interested in the art.

The Franklin Club produces most of the printed matter needed by the school. In the printing room all of our passes, tardy, absence, and library slips originate. Besides school jobs, many private printings are run off by the members. The club sponsors trips to printing plants and has studied color printing, history of printing, and other subjects pertaining to the craft.

HISTORICAL RESEARCH CLUB

The Historical Research Club originated about 2 B. C., that is, about two months before Christmas. Its sponsors are none other than Miss Butler and Miss McCutcheon.

This very interesting and educational club was organized to give the members an opportunity to visit the famous museums and art galleries in Chicago. Its members review historical literature, art and relics. They visit and review historical movies such as the famous Cecil B. de Mille's classic "Crusades."

The meetings are held twice monthly. Miss Butler and Miss McCutcheon led their host to the National Fraternity house at Evanston in October. They marched victoriously to the Garfield Flower and Art exhibit in November. December saw the conquest of the Rosenwald Museum and International House at the University of Chicago.

ENGINEERING CLUB

Although the Engineering Club is limited to but twenty boys, it has attained an enviable record. The membership is carefully selected from those young men in the school aspiring to be engineers.

In addition to lectures and demonstrations given by its own members, the club has taken several trips to industrial places to study applied engineering. The main purpose of the club is to interest the boys in the study of engineering and carry it beyond the text-book stage. The club's biggest event of the year is the banquet which is held in the late spring.

CISCA

During the school year just closing the name CISCA was being talked of in the corridors of Sullivan High. There was a certain strangeness in the name; the title of a newly organized club in the school; it bore a significance that was not immediately evident. Therefore, the question was being asked: What is CISCA?

Cisca Club I

"CISCA" is not found in the dictionary. It is a word that grew out of a title, therefore unique, and distinctive. It designates in abbreviated form the CHICAGO INTER-STUDENT CATHOLIC ACTION because that is precisely what it represents. The Sullivan group constitutes the local unit of that organization.

The history of CISCA is necessarily short, and its activities limited by numerous circumstances, but the story goes back even further than is immediately apparent. For several years a group of Sullivan students had been meeting privately each week in an effort to improve themselves along cultural and ethical lines and to broaden their education in their own humble way. Later on as interest increased, the conviction grew that other students in Sullivan might be benefited if arrangements could be made with school officials to form a club, meeting under the auspices of the school staff. This proposal eventually received authoritative approbation, and so CISCA stepped out to extend its scope as an extra-curricula unit of the Sullivan High School. Programs were immediately arranged that would promote the aims of the club for youth betterment.

Cisca Club II

Without ever losing sight of the general objective of CISCA in its city-wide activity, addresses and discussions of local benefit and interest were the order of the meetings. Mexico, its historical growth and development; the personal experiences of a lone survivor of the Belize, Honduras earthquake and tidal wave; the lore of famous European historical pilgrimages; the work of one engaged in the field of rehabilitating delinquent youth; the meaning of American laws and the interpretation of them, especially those affecting youth; these were some of the very enlightening and interesting subjects discussed and developed.

Thus educational aims and advantages were presented; current social problems of local and national interest discussed; religious activities in foreign fields reviewed by speakers of broad experience in this particular work; moral questions debated, and, finally, lest the efforts of the group become too strenuous, social meetings with entertainment and refreshments were had in discreet measure. So while CISCA is perhaps the youngest, it surely is not the smallest or the least progressive club in Sullivan. Moreover, though it has its own distinctive objectives, the local CISCA body is in thorough and enthusiastic accord with the spirit and all the finest traditions of Sullivan High School. In fact, while seeking the realizations of its own aims, it is ever striving for the advancement of every last Sullivanite.

Cisca Club III

Although Sullivan CISCA is a local body it has its foundation in the larger CISCA. This is made up of all High School students throughout the city; meetings are held on Saturday during the year. Any student may attend and present for consideration and discussion any subject of interest to youth in general, with a view to promote and aid student interests and activities.

CISCA CLUB, through the medium of the Annual, wishes to express its thanks to Mr. Hanson as well as to all the faculty for their gratifying cooperation.

THE PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The photography club, one of Sullivan's most active extracurricular organizations, is doing much to further interest in amateur photography.

Developing, printing, enlarging, shutters, lenses, trick photography, silhouettes, and night photography are among the subjects that have been discussed. Laboratory work is carried on in connection with the discussions. Visits to photography exhibits and other places of interest offer variety to the programs.

Opportunities for improving one's technique in taking pictures and for gaining a general knowledge of photography are offered to both the beginner and advanced amateur.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Among the oldest and most outstanding clubs in the school is the Chemistry Club sponsored by Mr. Resek. This organization is an outgrowth of the efforts of students of chemistry to further their knowledge and interest in the subject. Many of the members have their own laboratories at their homes.

Demonstrations and talks are given at regular intervals by members of the club in those phases of the science that interest them the most. Certain meetings are set aside during the year wherein the members perform experiments of their own choosing.

In addition to the regular school meetings, the club visits, several times during the year, large commercial laboratories in order to see their chemistry at work.

THE SLIDE RULE CLUB

Starting in Sullivan only a short while ago, the Slide Rule Club has been excellently functioning under the direction and tutoring of Mrs. Van Ness. The sole purpose of this organization is to train its members as to the proper methods of reading and applying the slide rule.

This accurate instrument has been found very useful in all subjects where even the slightest amount of math is involved. Its use is extended each year in the classrooms in connection with the study of algebra, geometry, physics, and chemistry.

The club has been quite successful in educating its members in the principles of this automatic mathematician.

MATHEMATICS SCHOLARSHIP CLUB

Late in the fall semester the Mathematics Scholarship Club was begun by Miss Hanson to help prepare interested students for scholarship examinations. Although it is quite small in membership, those belonging display a great interest in the subject of higher mathematics.

During the meetings, which are for the most part very informal, the coming Einsteins solve problems and go over those mathematical courses which they have already taken, but in which they need a review. The club is conducted on a class basis. Hiss Hanson is confident that her efforts will prove successful in acquiring scholarships for several of the members.

Robert Adelman and Eftyhia Javaras were president and secretary respectively, during both fall and spring terms.

ZOOLOGY CLUB

Another belief shattered! "Bugs," worms, and snakes are not the only things in which the zoology club is interested, for one of their meetings was concerned with experiencing the allure and enchantment of biological life in the West Indies through the medium of a movie camera, at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Esther N. Dorman.

Organized last September, this group is composed of students particularly interested in the subject. Discussions on such topics as "Heredity", "Corals", and "Microscopic Technique", have made interesting meetings. The club hopes to sponsor more trips such as the one taken to view the Field Museum's insect collection.

The officers are: Lorraine Spira, president; Inez Berman, secretary; and Walter Phares, treasurer.

BOTANY CLUB

If you are looking for future Luther Burbanks or Charles Darwins, the Botany Club is the place in which they are most likely to be found, because the various methods of grafting by the use of actual materials was demonstrated by several members and experiments illustrating the "survival of the fittest" have been performed.

By working out practical gardening projects and by taking outdoor trips, the club has been building up interest in nature and field lore. Moving pictures of varied growths of plants are shown, and at intervals, prominent speakers from universities present talks to the organization.

CAREER CLUB

"Our futures are, in the main, of our own making." For this reason the Career club, under the guidance of Miss Schaefer, was organized to aid students in making their decisions as to their future occupations.

With this goal in mind, the club is lectured to by its own members on subjects that interest them most. In addition, outsiders are invited to speak and movies are shown. This variety of interest tends to influence and help the members in their decisions.

The officers are: Iver Lawrence, president, and Amy Miller, secretary-treasurer.

THE DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Club, one of the oldest extracurricular organizations in Sullivan is the training ground for most of our outstanding public speakers. Although small in size, the club has stood out as one of the foremost activity groups. Echoing throughout the halls, the persuasive tones of these determined orators have been heard every other Friday afternoon. Some of the important topics being argued in the major universities today have been thoroughly discussed in the pro and con debates of Mr. Sundstrom's group.

Most of the club hours are spent in preparation for competitive debating with other schools. Plans are being formulated for such debates by Mr. Sundstrom and the club members.

The officers of the fall and spring semesters were the same, there being no election taking place between terms. President, James Gormley; vice-president, Roy Korn; secretary-treasurer, Fenton Schaffner.

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

Sullivan's Creative Writing Club was designed for our literary minded students. The designers were Miss Fricke and Miss O'Connell. Yes, my friends, here is a haven for anyone who is inspired to the point of wanting to be a poet or an author. The members write poems, short stories, essays, and autobiographies.

Miss O'Connell informs us that there will soon be books of Creative Writings in many Chicago high schools. We are also informed that contributions toward this cause at Sullivan will be accepted. All in all the club is very interesting and very informing; so come one, come all to the creative writing club. Who knows, maybe you will turn out to be a Coleridge, a Shelley, or even a Shakespeare!

RHYMERS

To be a poet is a great desire,
For this position these girls aspire,
To reach their goal and make their name,
World renowned, in brilliant fame.

Each week a poet's style they borrow,
These bouyant writers of tomorrow,
With mind alert and senses keen,
They hope for talent yet unseen.

GERMAN CLUB

Sprechen sie Deutch? It really does not matter if you do not excel in this interesting language, for all members of the German Club enjoy the activities of their organization without the knowledge of that tongue.

You may be sure the members are arduously striving in their efforts to pronounce the rolling r's in order to put on many a clever play in true German fashion.

Movies of Germany are also shown for its members, which are slowly and certainly convincing its spectators that they will visit their fair country as soon as their fate permits.

Every other Tuesday afternoon one may find the fascinated students assembled at the German Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Phillips, indulging in an interesting German discussion.

LATIN CLUB

". . . Facio, facis, facit, . . facimus, facitis, faciunt . . ." Conjugations! Declensions! Yes, this is Sullivan's Latin Club. But rhetoric study is only a small part of the club's program. For not only do the members delve into the study of grammatical forms, but they also have the intellectual thirst and the extraordinary energy and courage to creep into the study of the Latin Scriptures, such as those of Cicero and Ovid. What is the secret of their courage and ability? Well, a very important influence on the situation is the masterful and skillful guidance of the club's sponsor, Miss W. L. Shea.

STENOFORS CLUB

Advanced stenographers of the commercial department decided that they should know more of the business of which they would soon become an important part. A club was then composed of thirty-three students who were taking stenography four and the club was called the Stenofors. This desire for more knowledge in secretarial phases was soon satisfied. As the time and meetings progressed, the members learned more and more. The clack-clack of typewriters, the speed of shorthand were their customary practices for the group, so their new subjects became the operation of the dictaphone, one of the processes at which they became adept, and the learning of new forms for business letters.

Meeting every Monday night at the stroke of three, the group held its session until four. This entire group became more keen for their chosen future as the time went on. The group upon graduating from the fourth semester of stenography, became the Stenofives. Their experience in the organization taught them modern business conditions and the business' place in society along with the developments in modern stenography appropriating all new ideas for their own use. This experience in the Stenofors Club prepares the members for real operation in business firms who will readily recognize their training. Holding the gavel at Stenofors Club meetings was Caroline Sodders, the president, and taking club notes was Harriet Noordenberg, secretary. Its preparation for office work is appreciated by the school who hope with all their hearts that those members of the commercial department who held membership in the Stenofors will profit highly by their training.

THE STENOFIVES

The Stenofives Club is composed of stenography students who meet every Monday after school for the purpose of keeping up their speed in dictation. Through the aid of Miss Herman and graduated students they learn of the latest improvements and developments that take place in the business offices.

A part of their work during school hours is taking care of stencils, working in the Personnel office, in the main office, and doing clerical work for the Navillus.

The name "Stenofors" was originated at one of their first meetings, in September, 1936, and has now been changed as they advanced to their fifth semester of stenography.

Pauline Adrahtas is the president of the Club, and Virginia Jankowski is secretary.

OFFICE PRACTICE

Composed of the leading typists and experts in secretarial work, the office practice staff under the sponsorship of Miss Herman, is responsible for most of this type of work done in Sullivan. Efficiency and speed are the two main points by which the group operates. Their services, open to any instructor in need of typists or office workers, are admirably performed. To just give thanks for their services by means of a write-up is ingratitude. Theirs is a service—one that aids in keeping the school in its efficent state.

WINGED SPEEDSTERS

Speed! Accuracy! Neatness! This is the goal being reached by Sullivan's typing club, with the aid of Miss Powers, assisted by presiding officers Betty Hollman, Adrienne Nachman, Lois Dyker, and Ruby Oslund.

The purpose of the club is to improve the efficiency of each student in furthering the skills and abilities necessary for true office assistant.

Stenographic work as well as typing is included in the club activities, and an entirely new program is carried out each week. Those making thirty words per minute and higher, are eligible for pins, depending upon the number of semesters spent in qualifying themselves for these tests. Although not every member is eligible for these awards, each one will receive a gold and black pin, with the club's emblem, representing wings, to verify the capable typists of the club.

PHONOGRAPHY CLUB

This club meets each Friday under the supervision of the class officers, and the cooperation of the entire group.

The word phonography refers not only to typing and revision, but competency in filing, stenciling, and in operating both the mimeograph and dictaphone machines. Stenciling requires true mental alertness—pounding on keys in a perfect rhythm. The letters are typed on transparent blue paper, and then transferred to the extraordinary machine in 105. Each week, current letters are dictated and answered personally by a member of the class, and in this way one gains the confidence and capability of a secretary.

I Servant and master am I; servant of those dead, and master of those living. Through me spirits immortal speak the message that makes the world weep, and laugh, and wonder, and worship.

I tell the story of love, the story of hate, the story that saves and the story that damns. I am the incense upon which prayers float to Heaven. I am the smoke which palls over the field of battle where men lie dying with me on their lips.

I am close to the marriage altar, and when the graves open I stand nearby. I call the wanderer home, I rescue the soul from the depths, I open the lips of lovers, and through me the dead whisper to the living.

One I serve as I serve all; and the king I make my slave as easily as I subject his slave. I speak through the birds of the air, the insects of the field, the crash of waters on rock-ribbed shores, the sighing of wind in the trees, and I am even heard by the soul that knows me in the clatter of wheels on city streets.

I know no brother, yet all men are my brothers; I am the father of the best that is in them, and they are fathers of the best that is in me; I am of them, and they are of me. For I am the instrument of God.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club, under the expert guidance of Miss Helen Ford, its director, is rated as one of the finest musical organizations at Sullivan. It has a membership of seventy girls among whom are several outstanding singers.

The qualifications for admittance into this group are the following: the girl has to be interested in music, to be able to carry her own individual part, and is required to have had some experience in choral work before.

This semester the girls entered "The All High School Contest" and competed with many of the senior high school choruses in Chicago. In preparation for this event the glee club devoted much of its time to learning two selections, one which was required, "Ave Maria," and the other chosen at the discretion of Miss Ford, "Invocation to Life".

During fourth period the first Monday of every month the girls had their club meetings. If there was no lengthy business the remainder of the period was given over to a program. At this time the various talented girls were given the opportunity of performing alone. This period gave many girls the experience of entertaining other people and helped them to overcome their nervousness before an audience.

Officers of the club are: Gertrude Brown, president; Anita Weis, vice-president; Phoebe Briquelet, secretary; and Sylvia Fisher, treasurer.

SENIOR CHORUS

Fourth period is one of the most enjoyable periods of the day for Seniors, because at this time, they can sing to their heart's content whether or not they have talent. Anyone who enjoys singing is welcome to join the group, as it is not a picked chorus.

February Senior Chorus

Its popularity is proven by an enrollment of over one hundred students which is one-third of the entire Graduating Class. One of the reasons for the chorus' popularity is that it offers a pleasant interlude from the strain of other classes, and is one of the school organizations exclusively for graduating seniors.

No matter how willing a group may be to please, it cannot accomplish much without an inspiration. Miss Winifred E. Sheel, the capable director of the chorus, supplies this much needed stimulus with her untiring energy, keen sense of humor and genial nature.

Senior Chorus I

Lorraine Spira, the talented accompanist for the big group, is largely responsible for its many successful performances.

This year, there have been many innovations in the Senior Chorus, based on the idea of more student government in the organization. The first of these was to employ the idea of a club, which no previous Senior Chorus had done, and elect officers, who are Bill Throckmorton, president; Betty VanNatta, vice-president; Betty Donnelly, secretary, and Lloyd Keller, treasurer.

As always, Miss Sheel is in favor of having student directors. However, this year, besides occasionally conducting in class, they directed the singing at several assemblies. Marian Cain and Sanford Breakstone have taken turns in leading the chorus at various performances.

Senior Chorus II

More emphasis was put on a capella work this term than ever before. This is one of the most difficult types of choral singing, and it is especially hard for an unpicked group. In approximately two months, Miss Sheel succeeded in teaching "Praise Ye the Lord" by Kalinnikoff, which is an extremely technical number.

The Senior Chorus has participated in many school programs including the Clean-Up Program and the P.T.A. meeting on March 15, 1937, at which they rendered "On the Lagoon" by Brahms and "Bells of the Sea." The Chorus will also sing for the graduation exercises.

Mixed Chorus

MIXED CHORUS

With their voices raised in song the sixty-eight members of the Mixed Chorus watch Miss Sloan, their director. This group is made up of Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors. The goal set by the organization is to qualify and win a high position in the Music Festival and the High School Broadcast.

This year three members of the Chorus, John McConnell, Dorothy Walser, and Betty Neikrug were chosen to represent Sullivan in the High School A Cappella Choir. This is a distinct honor to have Sullivan so well represented, since there are but one hundred people in the Choir.

The spring of 1937 found John McConnell president, Robert Hyman vice-president, Shirley McCartney secretary, and Roy Korn treasurer.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boy's Glee Club, discontinued for awhile, came into existence again this semester. It now consists of thirty boys, most of whom were new at this type of music, but who have made excellent progress under Miss Ford's direction. One of the main selections studied was the "Soldiers' Chorus" from the opera Faust.

Due to the fact that the Club has just been newly reorganized, it made no important appearance this semester. However, with real interest and work on the part of the members, "The Boy's Glee Club" could become one of the leading music clubs at Sullivan. It is open to all boys regardless of grade.

Donald Hofstette is president; Alex Weil, vice-president; Edward Denison, secretary; Donald Hoffberg, treasurer; and Miss Helen Ford, sponsor.

CONCERT ORCHESTRA

Sullivan has every reason to be proud of its Concert Orchestra, which is under the direction of Mr. James Vandsburger, formerly a Civic Opera conductor. Playing the moderately difficult music, it has in its repertoire, "Meditation from Thais", "The Coronation March", and "The Last Spring".

Every student is eligible to join the orchestra, provided he can play some instrument well, or has had two years of study. Pupils who study some instrument with Mr. Vandsburger in school, automatically join the orchestra, when they become proficient.

The orchestra has appeared for all important occasions, rendering their selections with professional dexterity. Their harmony is the last high school reality for the graduate as he walks up the aisle to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" for the last time in Sullivan High School.

SPECIAL ORCHESTRA

Under the capable baton wielding of Doug Culver, Clifford Cohen and Hilton Brockman, the Sullivan special orchestra has increased in capability by leaps and bounds. The group has participated in many student productions enabling those performers to appear more polished and skillful. Their playing at school dances has paved the way for many profitable deposits in the school fund. The three aforesaid swingsters have specialized in solos during the last year and this paragraph may be but a little reminder of "Star Dust," "Hot Lips" and "Beve."

HALL USHERS

"Hey, buddy, where's your pass?" This shriek, constantly put to use by persistent hall ushers, is the bane of existence to the corridor loiterer. The hall ushers, an organization formed by the Senate, is responsible for the cleanliness of the corridor, the direction of visitors, and the elimination of unnecessary noise in the halls. To become a hall usher, one must obtain a recommendation, thus making the group especially select and trustworthy.

These "pass snatchers" have proved themselves to be indispensable in aiding various teachers with odd jobs which they might find occasion to want done. Sponsored by Mrs. McShane, this group has enabled the school to attain a more efficient and regular routine.

CLEAN-UP COMMITTEE

A cleaner, more healthful Chicago is the lofty ambition of our Clean-Up Committee. An extensive campaign to better lunchroom conditions and to clean up the corridors was launched during the course of the year. Posters, constant bulletins, and waste receptacles placed at numerous intervals, all tended to remind us of the necessity of a clean school.

A scrapbook of the committee's activities is being compiled as a part of the city wide campaign. The committee is also sponsoring various contests, an assembly, and a dance in the hope of stimulating interest in the cleaning of our city and school. Mr. Millard Schneller is the faculty sponsor.

RANGERS

The title "Rangers" is the most appropriate cognomen of any organization in Sullivan High School. Their duties range from running errands to caring for the bicycle room, from acting as ushers to showing visitors through the school, from aiding at fire drills to the performance of being general handy-man.

Led by Sedwick Rogers, the Rangers have established themselves as a need and a necessity. The group is decidedly select, for to become a Ranger, one must be superior in both scholarship and citizenship.

And so to the Rangers and their sponsor, Mr. Rogers, we offer this toast, "Long may you range!"

FIRE DRILL PATROL

The duty of this group of dependable boys is to patrol the outside of the building during fire drills. The patrol is headed by Fire Marshal Walter Phares and is sponsored by the Rangers and Alan Rogers, of the faculty. During the drills, of which there are two each month, the patrol directs the lines of march and guards the street intersections to prevent automobiles from driving too near the building. There is also one member assigned to each floor of the school to make certain no one remains inside. The patrol has functioned efficiently since the organization of Sullivan High and all members are thoroughly acquainted with fire regulations and the location of fire-fighting equipment in our building.

Stage and Locker Crew

STAGE AND LOCKER CREW

The members of the Stage and Locker Crew are Sullivan's official student technicians. Under the direction of Mr. Harold Gonzales of the faculty, they operate all the stage equipment such as the lights, and sound apparatus. The boys devote a great deal of their time to this work behind the scenes repairing equipment and otherwise keeping the stage in first-class condition. Aside from their stage work, the members also are in charge of the lockers that are in need of repair. They see that the lockers are in proper working order and are ready at any time to aid anyone having difficulty with his.

LUNCH ROOM GUARDS

"Put your tray away!" That is the cry of the Lunch Room Guards. This group was organized last semester by the Clean-up Committee. Its work is now being carried on very successfully by its chairman, Larry Kroll. It is divided into three squads—one for each lunch period—each of which consists of six boys who volunteered for this service. Their duties are to see that the students put their trays in their proper place, do not leave waste papers on the tables or floors, and generally keep the lunch-room clean and neat. Through the boys' efforts the lunch-room is now a pleasing sight to one's eye.

SERVICE GIRLS

One of the oldest organizations in Sullivan is the Service Girls' Club. Formed when Sullivan first opened as a junior high, it has been carried on through Sullivan Senior High. The club is an honorary one, taking as members only girls who have a high scholastic rating. Other qualifications for membership are courtesy, neatness, efficiency, and a sense of responsibility.

Two or more girls work in the main office each period of the day. Their duties consist of receiving visitors, typing, filing, and all office work in general. The experience gained from this type of work should prove of great value in later life. The group is sponsored by Miss Lillian Herman and is under the direction of Miss Bernice O'Hara.

OFFICE PRACTICE GIRLS

Efficient girls, under the supervision of Mr. John F. Erzinger, come in contact with the daily routine of real office work. They must excel in their ability, be willing, courteous and alert at all times.

Assuming a sense of responsibility, their executed duties affect a great many pupils in Sullivan, in fact, more than is realized by the average student. There is endless filing and "looking up". Record books and final record cards as well as quarterly semester marks must be assembled and checked. At the beginning of the semester new division groups must be correctly and quickly organized. All official incoming transcripts pass through the hands of Sullivan's registrar, Mr. Erzinger, and in turn, transcripts must be sent out for those who transfer to other schools.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Miss Williams

The Sullivan Girls' Athletic Association, under the supervision of Miss Dorothy Williams, endeavors to secure the participation of every girl in all branches of athletic work. An attempt is made to bring out the athletic ability of every girl through the regular gym class work, and also through outside activities. The G. A. A. is also an aid to the student in securing better health and higher ideals of sportsmanship.

The aim of each member of the association is the obtaining of a large letter "S", the highest symbol of athletic achievement. To receive this letter, a girl must earn 1000 points in various fields of activity which are specified by the organization. A smaller emblem is given for 500 points.

Members have the opportunity to earn other awards while they are working toward their major letter. Silver bars, which may be attached to the G. A. A. pin, are awarded for outstanding skill, service, or athletic ability in the gymnasium class work or in outside activities. Special emblems are given to the winning teams of inter-class championship games in such sports as basketball, volley ball, and softball.

One representative from each gym class is chosen by means of popular election to represent that class in the G. A. A. Council. It is from this select group that the officers of the organization are elected. The officers for the spring semester are: Mary Mitchell, president; Nancy Bushnell, vice-president; June Love, secretary; and Eileen Drohan, treasurer.

The Council is responsible for the special activities of the organization. It makes the plans and sees that they are carried out. It serves as a legislative body, and may make changes in the G. A. A. constitution. This group is also empowered to make the requirements for the awards more difficult.

At least one party is sponsored by the organization each semester. This year the freshmen were given a hearty welcome at a party in which the seniors demonstrated some of the many ways of earning G. A. A. points.

FOOTBALL TEAM

Never let it be said that Sullivan football team did not accomplish some outstanding feat, and the football squad of '36 was no exception. They broke the three-year touchdown jinx.

Beset by obstacles beyond their power to combat, the gridmen, ably coached by Ralph "Bull" Margolis, are to be commended for the spirited play they showed on the field.

Looking at the team's record, consideration must be given to the inadequate facilities at its disposal. A practice field was lacking. Hence, the touchdown made during the Roosevelt fray is a fitting tribute to the team's spunk and courage.

The Freshman-Sophomore team, created just this year was successful in defeating our arch enemy, Senn to the tune of 20-0.

BASKETBALL TEAM

A fighting Tiger heavyweight quintet placed itself in fifth place in the North Section basketball race for 1936 and 1937. Although the team dropped near the close of the season, their spirited playing was an example of hard fight and Sullivan loyalty.

The team, captained by Danny Rifkind, second in the high scorings for the North Side quintets, was truly an example in variety. Rifkind was consistent in his scoring, James was noted for his spectacular hook shots, Lounsbury for his ability to capture the ball from the backboard, Ross for his fight, and Cunniff for his ball handling.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

Composed of all athletes having won their numerals at various sporting activities, the Letterman's club represents the athletic youth of Sullivan High School. Led by the captains of teams,—Don Tanck, football; Bob Anis, Burt Klein, swimming; Scott Walker, swimming; Dan Rifkind, basketball; and others, the numeral winners have completed a tremendous portion of work during the 1936 and 1937 semesters. The group presented dances along with other affairs and all proved to be successful. In accordance with these presentations, the club has financed all athletic affairs and the awarding of letters. By unifying all activities in this manner, it becomes a great honor to belong to the Letterman's club, Sullivan's athletic honor society.

TRACK TEAM

"There they go!" A mad shriek from the spectators as the crunch—crunch of spikes digging in gravel sends thrills a-plenty down their spines. Flashing around the bend, sprinting into the stretch, the sight of a lifetime, their churning arms and legs beat high toward the little, thin tape. The winnah!

Sullivan's track team was a thrill provider for the student body. Coached by Mr. Nemkoff, they wound up high in intra-school competition. Led by Kafka, Smyrniotis, Kieth, and Lifschutz, they proved to be a dangerous menace to the majority of Chicago prep track teams.

SWIMMING TEAM

Sullivan's aquatic stars, once again, proved to be the highest ranking athletic squad in the school by virtue of their repeated victories in 1936 and 1937 semesters. Coached by Mr. Margolis, the team captured many events in their meets with other schools.

Co-captains Bob Anis and Burt Klein, with Johnny Schoenfield and Erwin Cohen proved to be four of the city's highest scoring threats. This foursome, entering in the Portage Park swim meet as the "Four Mexicans" triumphed in the 40 yd. crawl, the breaststroke, and took a first and second in the backstroke, then proceeded to capture the medley relay with outstanding bursts of speed.

GIRLS' SWIMMING CLUB

Swift, sure, and firm are the strokes with which the girls of this club make their way from the deep to the shallow end of the pool. There are only a few specific qualifications for entrance into this organization, namely, to be able to swim three different strokes and to make a plain dive. Most of these girls, however, can exceed these meager specifications.

They are a pleasure and a thrill to watch, with their long, swift strokes and graceful, varied dives. Under the leadership of Miss Williams, they seek to compete with other schools as often as possible. Their aim is to develop sportsmanship and good will as well as good swimmers and divers from those of their ranks.

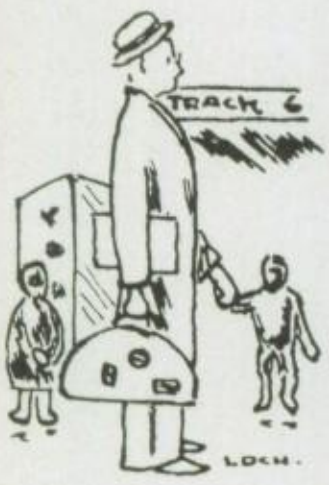
THE TRAVEL CLUB

"All Aboard!" cried the conductor and a group of Sullivan students were on their way to Washington, D. C. While on the steps of our nation's capitol these students decided that when they returned to school they would form a Travel Club for the purpose of seeing our own city and the world.

After obtaining two sponsors, Mrs. Schabes and Mr. Rogers, the first meeting was held in May of 1936. The officers elected were Henry Fantus, president; Betty Isaacson, secretary; and Iver Lawrence, treasurer.

In the fall the same officers retained their positions and the Travel Club began plans for the year. At the meetings were shown motion pictures on travel throughout the world. Talks on travel were given by members and outside speakers. The club has taken several trips throughout Chicago, some of which were to the Chicago Lighting Institute, Chicago Tribune Plant, WBBM Studios, WGN Studios, and to the Financial Section of our city. During Christmas vacation twenty-two members and friends of the club took a six day tour to Biloxi, Mississippi and New Orleans, Louisiana. On April ninth the First Annual Reunion Dinner was held.



The club has a bulletin board upon which from time to time are exhibited pictures of interesting places of travel. There is maintained a library of folders of points of interest throughout the world.

The spring officers are: Iver Lawrence, president; Eunice Swet, vice-president; Charlotte Krevitsky, secretary; Betty Katz, treasurer.

GIRLS' RIDING CLUB

Smiling faces, sparkling eyes, hair blowing in the wind, bodies rising rythmically with the movements of the swift horses, the members of the Girls' Riding Club go forth every week to enjoy a pleasant afternoon on the bridle path.

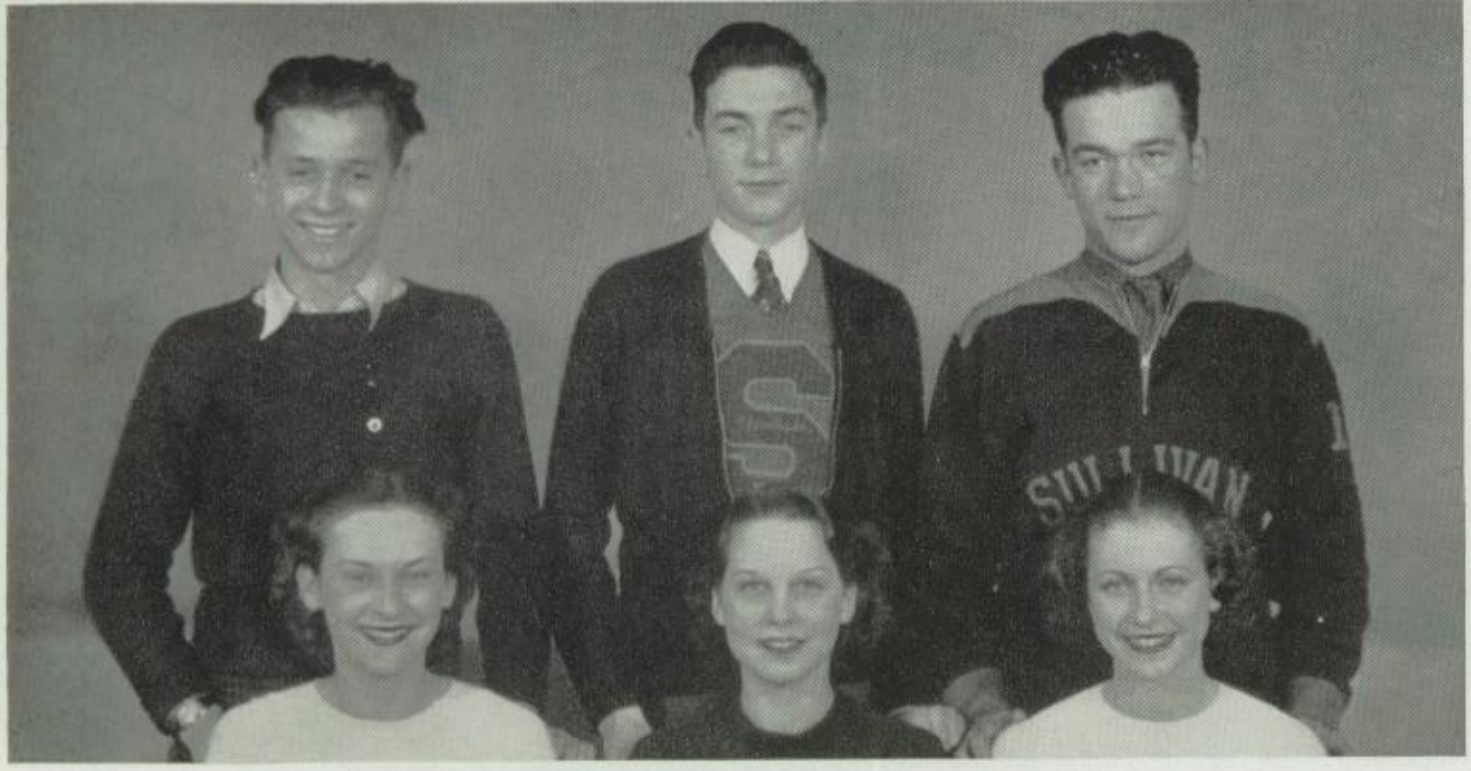
The group, sponsored by Miss Margaret Colford, is divided into two classes. The beginners, or inexperienced riders are given the necessary six weeks' training in an indoor ring at the Lake Shore Riding Academy under the very able supervision of Mr. Bernard Christensen. When the girls have become fairly skillful, they join the advanced group and ride along the bridle path which winds through Lincoln Park.

The Riding Club was organized in the spring of 1936, and has been one of the most popular extra-curricular clubs. Its membership has greatly increased with the coming of warm weather, and there are at present four regular classes.

Three of the charter members of the club have received recognition for their ability in the form of silver horsemanship bars presented to them by the Girls' Athletic Association. These girls, Eleanor O'Connor, Eleanor Johnson, and June Larson rode weekly with Miss Colford during the summer.

The riders have naturally adopted preferences for certain horses, and each week bedlam reigns until their wants are satisfied.

The Riding Club provides its members with the satisfaction which results from the mixed feelings of health, pleasure, and companionship that nature-loving girls find so easy to secure.



Cheerleaders

CHEERLEADERS

"Sis boom bah—, rah, rah, rah,—Give a yea, Sullivan, a yea, Sullivan—boom chickaboom"—If this concoction of small phrases appear to be an announcement or quotation from a foreign language club, don't let appearances be deceiving. They're just the cheerleaders' yells, so important in the build-up of spirit in any high school. During the football season, three boys and three girls were the leaders of the cheers; Bob Stern, Jimmy Couglin, and Sherm Lifschutz; Nancy Routson, Nancy Bushnell, and Jewel Austin. This group relied on their initiative when it was found that the supply of cheers was not large enough, and their original cheers aided the student body by lifting its morale.

TENNIS TEAM

"Stroke, drive, lob, smash,—." A practice in the gymnasium might disclose all these queer words, so important in the game of tennis. The team, under the supervision of Coach Nemkoff, had quite a successful season in its net encounters during the years of 1936 and 1937. Among the chief features of their encounters were the split bill of two matches with Senn. Despite the fact that six leading netmen leave school this June,—Burkoff, Dreben, Jones, Heinemann, Bieber, and Cohen, the team has developed younger members in whom it may place reliable trust for success next year. The matches, played at Morse Tennis club, were a source of interest for the athletic minded students and the attendance at the net encounters reached a new high.

GIRLS' GOLF CLUB

"Fore!" How much enthusiasm and joy of living can be expressed in that one word. In 1936, some of Sullvan's more athletic girls, under the willing leadership of Mr. Rogers, formed a group which rapidly matured into a club of some importance. They met twice weekly and with the help of Steve Brakas, their "pro", they made swift progress. There are two groups, the beginners and those who have a greater knowledge of the sport. The more experienced girls, led by Betty Lee Clinch, hope to form a team and to compete with the teams of Evanston and New Trier.

One never sees these girls without a happy smile and a cheery word, and these, augmented by good will, sportsmanship, and enthusiasm should carry the girls far.

THE GOLF TEAM

The Sullivan golf team has been the most successful team in school as far as success in actual competition is concerned. Having captured the North Section title in both '35 and '36, they are well established in the golfing world in Chicago's high schools. Coolness and confidence are their watchwords and every match is entered with professional poise and optimism. Their scores vary somewhat, but on the whole the team plays quite consistently. The four members, Swanson, Curto, Leave, and Spain are all good friends, both in and out of school and so make a well unified group.

SINGING CLASS

"Do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, ti, do." These are not the only sounds that one hears upon entering the music room where fifteen of Sullivan's vocalists display their talents.

The class is fortunate in having Mr. Arnott, a former Metropolitan Opera Star, as their instructor. During the past two semesters the class has learned several classical and semi-classical songs.

In May several members participated in a city-wide voice contest. The winner was to be given a scholarship to further his musical study.

Mrs. Walser is the faculty member who sponsors the group.

Sgt. Gristhus

As the Sullivan R. O. T. C. unit grows older, its importance to the school becomes more duly impressed on the students' minds. Each day, its variety of activities continues making the school a more efficient institution. Not only does the unit develop officers, but it also creates opportunities by which a young man puts to use his leadership and calls upon his own initiative.

The enrollment in the R. O. T. C. shows a great increase over last year's group, the cadets numbering approximately two hundred. There are three companies, A, B, and C, lettered in accordance with their size. From this group, hall guards and lunch guards are chosen.

It is a distinctive honor to belong to the Crack Squad or Crack Company. The Crack Squad, representing those most capable in military drill, were second place winners in the 1936 and 1937 city-wide competitions. They ranked high in the federal inspection this year with their more precise and more accurate battalion.

The Sullivan R. O. T. C. holds in tender memory the death of Vance Coffman, sorely grieved by his fellow cadets.

THE PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT

The work of this department has become an integral part of the policy of the school administration. During the difficult transitional period between elementary and high school, the department has been active in effecting a satisfactory school adjustment for these students. The influence of the department has gradually widened to include all the students in its program.

Through the compilation of scientific data on the individual pupil, and the subsequent interpretation of that data by the school psychologists, teachers and pupils alike have been made aware of their common problems.

The program is preventative in purpose, but flexible enough in administration to provide for corrective measures as they are needed. It is the purpose of the department to understand the individual pupil, to ascertain his abilities, interests and problems, and to plan a program of study in the light of this knowledge. In order that students may be self guiding, the Personnel Department has accumulated a library of reference materials. A set of Career monographs is a recent gift to the department.

The members of the staff are: Mrs. Anne R. Heisler, School Psychologist, Miss Josephine C. Sager and Mr. Stanley E. Engstrom, Adjustment Teachers.

Sentinel Policies Lead Sullivan To Victory

"The betterment of Sullivan" — that simple motto sums up all of the policies of the Sentinel, which this year embarked on an active and progressive campaign, and accomplished several important objectives set forth from time to time in its platform.

Achievement number one, the attainment of an athletic field at Farwell and the lake after considerable pressure had been placed on local politicians, was a great step forward towards establishing Sullivan as one of the finest schools in the city. To better democratic conditions in the existing student government, the Sentinel led the fight for popular election of officers. A bill establishing this was finally passed by the Senate, marking achievement number two.

Other planks in the platform were the organization of a baseball team, drastic improvement of lunchroom conditions, and a campaign to educate the students as to the causes, horrors, and results of war. When the student body began to clamor for a school nine the Sentinel pointed out that a coach is the first thing which must be obtained since our athletic instructors are too busy with other sports.

The "ticket" system in elections caused the newspaper to battle for the abolition of this system, whereby nominees bound together, form a ticket and push through undesirable candidates.

The Sentinel has accomplished much in the past; that it will continue to do so is the aim of next year's staff and the future editors of the paper. Always will the slogan hold, "The betterment of Sullivan!"

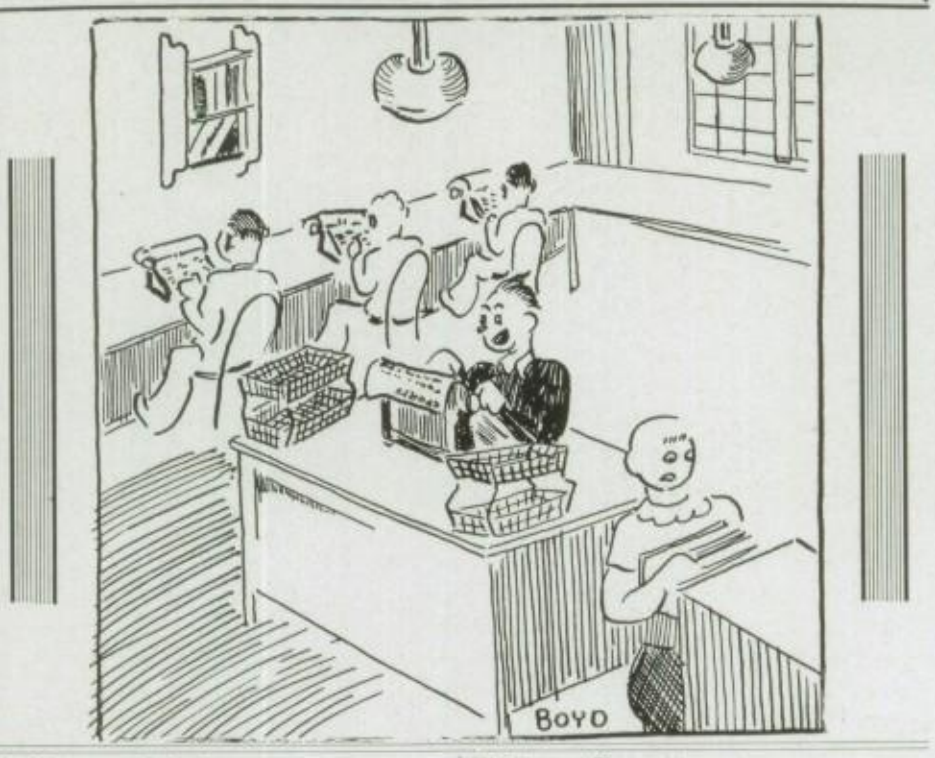
Sponsor Change

At the bottom of the writing staff masthead, one finds A. L. Pannitch, the Sentinel sponsor, listed as Foreign Correspondent. Mr. Pannitch having received a Sabbatical leave in February, the paper was sponsored by Mr. Harold Croghan, language professor of the school.

Under the supervision of these two sponsors, the paper has proceeded to a ranking second to none in the state of Illinois.

Their matchless leadership has provided an inspiration for all staff members.

SCRIBE'S DEN



Sullivan Athletes Forge Steadily Ahead

Forging ahead in sports—football, basketball, swimming, tennis, golf, wrestling — Sullivan's teams, during the past year, have come to be reckoned with in high school competition. A leading aquatic squad, a North Section championship golf team, a high ranking quintet, all have given cause to make Sullivan proud of its athletic prowess. Developing teams and personalties, the school can well congratulate itself on its sporting advancement, its increase in sportsmanship, and its uplifting of morale during the 1936 and 1937 semesters.

Sullivan Faculty

Sullivan students grow up fast. Their advanced form of student government, their senior class routine, their annual, their bi-weekly publication, the Sentinel, all function with the precision of a more mature machine. For their serious connections, they can thank a careful, well-trained, smooth-running faculty. Headed by Mr. Hansen and Miss Mullin, the school has become outstanding not only in providing a textbook education, but giving students a chance for practical application in extracurricular activities. The student body takes this opportunity to offer its thanks to the efficient faculty members for the preparatory education they have received.

Editor Continues Novel Tradition

Carrying out a novel tradition George Heinemann, Co-editor of the Sentinel, presented the new editors for next semester, with the same black shirt which was bequeathed to him by his predecessor of 1936, Herbert T. Lyon.

It is hoped that this same shirt, which is to be worn only on the day the paper goes to press, will be forever a lasting tradition in Sullivan.

"Using this black shirt as a 'good luck' piece," stated Heinemann, one of the deceasing co-editors, "the new staff and new editors should without a doubt splendidly carry on the present policies and progress of the Sullivan Sentinel."

Sullivan Theatricals

The Frolics, Rendezvous, Spring Festival and Senior Play—a group of theatrical productions staged by the student body—created many "hits" during 1936 and 1937. To those participating in the productions it became a distinct thrill. Those not in the cast showed their appreciation of Sullivan talent by making every first night a sellout.

The students enjoyed the dramatic presentations and extend their appreciation to the faculty members and students who participated in and made successes of the shows.

Paper Loses Valuable Scribes By Graduation

Graduating in the June class are five important members of the Sentinel editorial staff. They are, George Heinemann and Mortimer Rayman, co-editors, Cordill Hamilton, feature editor, Stanley Burkoff, sports editor, and Leland Hagman, business manager.

This semester's editors have been prominent in journalistic work and other fields as well. George Heinemann during his term as vice-president of the Senate introduced many bills which greatly increased the activities of that organization. It was largely through his efforts that Sullivan now has popular elections.

Mortimer Rayman, in addition to writing thought-provoking editorials, being a member of the chess team and one of the most popular students attending Sullivan, found time to twice become president of the Honor Society, a feat never before accomplished.

Cordill Hamilton, feature editor, Alpha member of the Honor society, and only "girl graduate" on the staff, has, since her first term as a reporter, been a believer in the establishment of a free press. A member of many clubs, she has taken an active interest in all school affairs.

Stanley Burkoff has been a champion of Sullivan athletics since he became sports editor last September. His highly descriptive technique of writing up all events has won him wide acclaim among Sullivanites, which is evidenced by the fact that he was elected treasurer of the Senior class.

The business manager of a newspaper has as much work as the writers with no allowances for temperament, so Leland Hagman has found. He has had charge of the monetary end of the Sentinel and has so successfully managed it, that there now is a surplus in the treasury.

In the Sentinel, this semester, many new ideas were introduced. Some of the perennials, "Presenting", the humor column, written by Seymour Shafran, a graduating staff member, "The Big Broadcast", also written by a graduate, Marvin Farber and Tiger Tips, were retained, but others have made first appearances. Erwin Cohen, June graduate, inaugurated a column "Quien Sabe" which gained instant popularity. "After Thinking it Over" satisfied a long-standing need.

Truthfully, the Sentinel has had an extremely successful year.

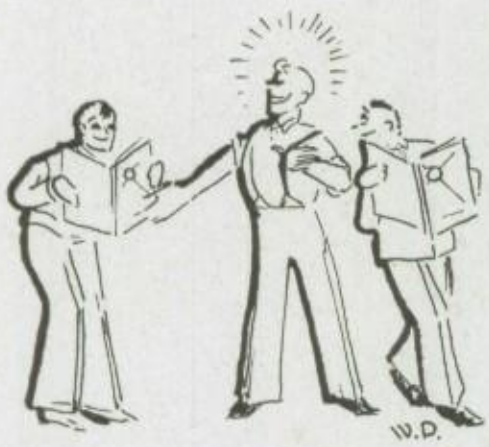
NAVILLUS

Dreams, hopes, ideals! Each of us has our own. What joy to see them reach an ultimate fulfillment. What happiness to know they are realized. To us, the staff of the Yearbook, the Navillus is the embodiment of just such fulfillment of dreams and ideals. To us, the book is the final gesture, a never-to-be-forgotten token and reminder of four years of eager, undimmed youth. It is a remembrance of events and deeds of years, gone by, but not erased from our minds.

The Navillus has grown from a few words, a few lines, to a book superior in literary and pictorial works. Our pride in it has grown with the book itself, and looking at the completed annual, a satisfied glow takes the place of that intense, driving fear that was present when the book was begun. Each page of the Navillus seems to shine with the ambitions and aspirations of the people who helped to make it up. It isn't hard to detect that note of striving to please, that deep desire for the approval and admiration of the students of Sullivan.

Each member of the staff has had specific work assigned to him and each one is responsible to the heads of the various committees, all of which are under the supervision of the Editorial and Business departments. Our goal has been to make a book that students and faculty can ever boast of. Today, we believe that goal has been reached. But it would have been impossible without the sympathy and understanding help of the faculty sponsor, Mrs. Doris Schabes, whose foresight and experience have been an invaluable aid to us. To her, thanks are all too inadequate.



The Navillus has been made for you. Those of the Navillus Staff hope to have earned your approval as well as to have given you a satisfaction and pride in Sullivan and Sullivanites, through the medium of the annual, the Navillus.

Lingeringly I turn away, . . .

So, with face lit with delight
And all gratitude, I stay
Yet to press their hands and say,
"Thanks . . . So fine a time! . . . "

The "NAVILLUS"

SIT ye down in balmy Spring 'neath the cool green shade of blossoming trees, or draw thy comfort nearer the hearth's red embers while the Winter winds singing, sigh without—and recapitulate those visions which are, which were, which ever shall be—the essence of thy youth.

'Tis odd that we pen, "Finis" when actually we are but beginning our acts! However, if—alas!—the work must end it is well to recount, between friends, those precious qualities of life for which there is no beginning —no ending—only timeless existence.

The noble Bard of Avon ne'er wrote fairer words than these—"Life's but a walking shadow, a poor player that struts and frets his hour upon the stage and then is heard no more." Yet, we—in adult life—must pace the broad stage of the world and with our "yesterdays" light the way to achievements we trust shall never die—'though our names may perish.

This has been one of the principal performances of the whole: an ambitious, courageous, ever-youthful, flashing movement of beauty—color—charm! But—so soon to become remote from our divergent paths of life—our cherished futures! Nevertheless, does not the past contain indelible memories for this gay audience?

Now—close this annual . . . your shining eyes . . . soft reveries written into your script—can you play it? Comes the echo of an overwhelming affirmative—and thus do we only speak for thee—may your gentle dreams be fulfilled!
